DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 11 October 2006 has been entered.

Allowable Subject Matter

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

1. Claims 3-9 and 11-15 are allowed.

Claims 3-9 and 13-15 currently stand allowed for the reasons set forth in the Final Rejection filed 11 July 2006.

Claims 11 and 12, pursuant to entry of the applicant's Request for Continued Examination, are both limited by the presence of three steps: (1) "detecting an operated content from a rotation of an operation device," (2) "measuring a rotational volume of said operation device" and (3) "notifying of the operation content causing an output in accordance with a measured result only if the operation content is set to a maximum or minimum at a predetermined time." As indicated above, the third step includes the new word "only," which differentiates these claims from the cited prior art. In particular, the combination of Sudo and the Motorola Timeport 270c wireless telephone user's manual teach providing alarm clock notifications at predetermined times and at volumes in accordance with the telephone's volume settings, which can assume maximum and minimum values. However, if the telephone's volume setting is set between a maximum and minimum, an alarm notification will still be provided at the predetermined time. Again, this contrasts with the claimed invention since an alarm notification will only be provided if the telephone's volume (or other setting) is set to a maximum or minimum value. Thus, claims 11 and 12 are allowable over the cited prior art.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
